Court Takes Up Fraud Charge by Hammerstein

A "John Doe" investigation of a com-aint by Oscar Hammerstein, charging that he was fraudulently induced to sign away his title to the Lexington Avenue Opera House, was begun yesterday by Magistrate Grochl, in the Tombs court. Louis J. Vorhaus, attorney of 115 Broadway, who, Hammerstein alleges, introduced him to Frank Gerston, of the Gerston & Kramer Company, who rook title to the property, was repretook title to the property, was represented by Charles G. F. Wahle. The latter assured Magistrate Groehl that his client courted the fullest investigation. The hearing was adjourned, with out any witnesses being examined, until August 23, when the court will hear testimony in chambers.

Food Bill Blocked, Says "Old Guard"

Fight on Perkins Will Prevent Any Action at Extra Session, Is Belief

ALBANY, Aug. 16 .- While Governor Whitman has called together all his advisers in a last effort to straighten out his food bill predicament, the "old wheat, 5,600,000 acres of rye, 7,900,000 guard" leaders are convinced there is acres of barley, 45,200,000 acres of little possibility of getting any food oats and 111,500,000 acres of corn, ac- legislation enacted at the extra session, cording to a statement issued by the and they seem to be glad of it. Per-functory sessions of the two houses of the Legislature were held to-day, and a recess was taken until next Wednesday. The "old guard" leaders privately ad

Compared with 1917, these acreages represent increases of 22 per cent for winter wheat, 15 per cent for all wheat, 51 per cent for all wheat, 51 per cent for row, and 5 per cent for oats, and decreases of 6 per cent for barley and of 8 per cent for oats, and decreases of 6 per cent for barley and of 8 per cent for oats, and decreases of 6 per cent for barley and of 8 per cent for corn, or net increase of 4.5 per cent over the total 1917 acreage of these cercals combined.

The original programme of the Department of Agriculture called for pastment of Agriculture called for this fall. When the proposed state acreages were presented to the authorities of the states in which wheat and rye are important crops a further increase was considered possible and desirable by them. As a consequence, the recommendation for the sowing of 47, 337,000 acres of winter wheat and 57, 337,000 acres of winter wheat and 57, 337,000 acres of winter wheat will give a total production of 672,000,000 bushels, which will exceed all previous winter wheat crops harvested in the United States, with the exception of the crops of 1914 and 1915, when the acreage and yield pears were both above normal.

Assuming this increase in plantings, if the extremely favorable conditions under which the winter wheat crop of 1914 was grown are repeated, the yield of winter wheat next year will be 880,000,000 bushels, or by far the largest winter wheat crop ever produced in this country, and even larger than the total of both winter and spring wheat crops for every past year except two. The figures quoted are based upon a winter wheat terop ever produced in this country, and even larger than the total of both winter and spring wheat crops for every past year except two.
